Burning of the Richmond Theatre.
An old man contributes to the Lynchburg Virginian some interesting reminiscences of this terrible event, which occurred on the 26th of December, 1814. He says:

"I was then a school boy in Richmond, very nearly twelve years old. My parents, residing in the country, were in town for the winter. They generally eschewed the theatre, but that evening were persuaded by some young friends to accompany them. Others from our boarding house, to the number of nine or ten, likewise attended. The play was over, and the afterpiece had just begun. The actors paused, and seemed confused, and at the same time fire fell on the stage. An actor then came forward, and announced, 'Ladies and gentlemen, the theatre is on fire.' Instantly all was tumult and terror. Parties separated, each rushing forward, to find means of escape. Of those who went from our boarding house no two got out together. The pit of the theatre was on a level with the street, and escape thence, through the only outer door, was easy. Many from the lower gallery clambered down into the pit, and saved themselves in that way. A good stairway, beginning a few feet from the outer door, led to the galleries. The house was full; and in the frantic terror that prevailed most of those in the first gallery rushed towards the head of the stairs. Here the pressure was fearful. Many were thrown down and trampled to death. My parents were forcibly separated. My mother, without the slightest effort on her part, was thrust upwards on the heads and shoulders of those beginning to descend the stairs; and so dense was the mass she was carried in a reclining posture to the bottom on her feet, and then the outer door, just before her, afforded ready egress. Leaving with an acquaintance a message for her husband, she set off alone for the boarding house, up Grace street, more than half a mile distant. She lost shoes, bonnet and cap, and when I reached the parlor she had arrived, and with her hair streaming over her shoulders was recounting some of the terrible scenes of the fire. She was the first to reach the house.

"The father of the writer escaped in a different way. Just after his wife had been carried down the stairs, the staircase gave way, and then masses of frantic beings were rolling over each other to the floor. Seeing escape by the stairs cut off, the writer's father sought other means of deliverance. Whilst forcing along he felt a current of cool air, and looking to the left he saw an open window a few feet off. He was a stout, heavy man, and by a violent effort reached the window and seated himself on the sill. He then wrapped his great coat around him, and holding by the outer edge of the sill as long as possible, dropped safely to the ground.

"The writer's half-sister, sixteen years old was in the house, with her maternal grandmother, with whom she lived. The old lady was heavy and helpless, and making little or no effort to escape, was burned. Her granddaughter springing to the window and leaped out. The fall shattered her right ankle bone so badly that she could not move. After a time a gentleman from our boarding house recognized her, and, with other help, carried her to a house one square off. There she suffered agony for many weeks before removal was possible, and a year elapsed before she could walk, and was lame for life.

"An aunt and cousin of the writer had been attended to the theatre by a young lawyer. When the alarm was given fear appeared to deprive both of the power to move. To vain the young man besought them to flee for their lives. In spite of entreaties both sat still whilst the heat and smoke became each moment more insupportable. The gentleman remained with them until his nose, eyebrows, and whiskers were badly scorched. The instinct of self preservation then drove him to a window near at hand, whence he leaped for his life. One knee was badly sprained. The ladies kept their seats and met their doom.

"The writer's mother was sometimes reluctantly persuaded to describe the horrors of that night. Just as she left the theatre she observed a large, heavy old man, lying on his back, beneath a window, perfectly dead. She used to say the look of agony in that ghastly face haunted her for years.

"A touching incident, well authenticated, was this: Lieutenant Gibbon, United States navy, was betrothed to the most beautiful girl in Richmond. (He was the son of Major Gibbon, collector of the port, who, in the war of the Revolution, led the 'forlorn hope,' of volunteers being lieutenant in command of the storming party in Wayne's attack on Stony Point.) The lieutenant and his betrothed were in the theatre, but when the alarm was given he was not at her side. He hastened to her rescue, and finding a lady whom, from her general appearance, he supposed was the loved one, he struggled manfully for her safety, and at length got her without the building. Here, to his dismay, the bright light revealed the features of an unknown lady. He instantly rushed back into the house, now a mass of fire, but the adverse throng delayed his progress so much that just as he had found her whom he sought, the roof fell in and both perished.

"Dr. McCaw, a prominent physician, was instrumental in saving many females. He sat astride a window-sill, and persuaded them to get on the seat, then, holding as far as he could reach, and dropped safely to the ground. All so aided escaped unhurt. When all whom he could influence had been thus saved, the Doctor, finding the fire close at hand, leaped from the window, but in doing so injured one knee, which rendered him lame for life."

BALTO. LOCK HOSPITAL.
DR. JOHNSTON.
Physician of this celebrated institution, has discovered the most Certain, Speedy, Pleasant and Effectual Remedy in the world for all
DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

Weakness of the Back, Limbs, Strictures, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Trembling, Dimness of Sight, or Giddiness, Diseases of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the songs of the Sirens to the Mariner of Ulysses, brightening their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, &c.

YOUNG MEN.
Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, and dread the destructive habits which annually sweep to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entered listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or walked to extol the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.
Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness, Loss of Procreative Power—Impotency, Nervous Excitability, Palpitation, Organic Weakness, Nervous Debility, or any other Disqualifications, should be relieved.
He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS.
Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored.
This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgence. Young men are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the phlegm? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened. Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Insomnia, Giddiness, Debility, and Weakness of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

A CURE WARRANTED IN TWO DAYS.
Relief in 24 Hours! No Mercury!
Persons ruined by Ignorant, Trifling Pretenders and their Deadly Poison, should apply immediately.

DR. JOHNSTON.
Member of the Royal College of Surgery of London, Graduate of one of the most celebrated Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with nervousness, being cured at sudden snatches, sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.
Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the evil habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c., &c.

Mentally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced by persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN
Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit of solitary indulgence from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before contemplating

Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to the attainment of happiness. In the pursuit of their journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with their own.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.
When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has involved the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveler returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskillful PRETENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer moping about town, taking their noxious or even a temporary relief, and instead of being relieved to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness in despair leave him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment.
